EMPLOYEE OF THE QUARTER

November 2014
Darlene Hackworth stepped up to fill in for another employee on maternity leave. She immersed herself in her new role and quickly became a member of the Contracts team. Darlene’s main focus was to work with project managers to get their projects out the door. She quickly learned that not all packages are created equal. Darlene’s willingness to take the bull by the horns led to the successful completion of many bid packages, some on very tight time frames.
Darlene demonstrated true teamwork in accomplishing the mission of the department. Her ability to juggle multiple projects in pursuit of the end goal shows her commitment to excellence.
After doing this rotational assignment, Darlene carries with her a wealth of new information to share with her colleagues on what is needed to successfully navigate bid documents to the bidding community.
The Facilities Contracts team values their time with today’s Darlene, and will miss her as she returns to Facilities Engineering and Project Administration.
Facilities Contracts wishes her well in her next adventure!

Congratulations Darlene!
