Cliff Horton consistently strives for excellence in serving the campus and the student residents. Here in Facilities we have some FS staff who rarely work with faculty or students and other FS staff who work directly with faculty and students and at many different levels of work too. Cliff works as a team player, taking on whatever task needs to be done without complaint and often providing constructive feedback as to how to improve the process in the future.

Cliff was nominated because he has been recognized by various customers in the SAS Zone for providing exemplary service.

Lou Farino, Facility Manager wrote: "I would like to make it known that this winners work ethic and communication skills are beyond belief. When he communicates a problem in a building you have a complete description of the problem AND a photo. This needs to be recognized."

Adidi Etim, Residence Hall Director wrote: "I wanted to let you know that this winner was very helpful today. We had a good discussion about some of my heating concerns and he was able to help/show me how to turn on the additional electrical heaters in my apartment and the laundry area. He was great to work with and very nice."

Cliff is a pleasure to work with and a valued employee that Jesse Wells knows she can always count on.
